

Macy's Celebrates Black History Month with Monica, Jurnee Smollet-Bell Discussion

By Naomi K. Bonman

I am in several influencer organizations that pay you to attend, pre-post, and promote different events. Last Thursday, February 18, I had the opportunity to attend Macy's Celebrates Black History at the Baldwin Hills Plaza where two of my favorite industries ladies were present. Renowned singer Monica and actress Jurnee Smollet-Bell were the guests for the Los Angeles Macy's event.

The event took place right behind the women's apparel and perfume section. The moderator of the event, who owns a digital media platform asked Monica and Jurnee several questions which ranged from what they love about being Black, what is needed in the community, and whom else beside themselves did they feel were innovators in the community. After the discussion the floor was opened to questions from the audience before a preview of Jurnee's upcoming WGN series, "Underground," which premieres on March 2.

The highlight of the discussion was what we each went home with. Most of us purchased a $25 dollar item from Macy's which qualified us to meet and greet both of the ladies. Each audience member also went home with a special invite to the exclusive premiere of Underground, Monica's "Code Red" album, and an "Underground" t-shirt.

Bottom Line Negotiating Drug Prices Will Make Affordable Health Care More Affordable

Publisher's Commentary by Wallace J. Allen

Congress is preventing Medicare from performing one of the basic elements of cost savings. An element that is critical to the profit line and in some cases critical to the survival of a business. Negotiating based on all of Medicare's clients creates a lower cost per unit than if each individual insurer negotiates its own price. Bulk negotiation and purchasing is the answer! Bulk purchasing via direct negotiations with drug manufacturers by Medicare could save billions of dollars.

The 2003 overhaul of Medicare included a concession to the pharmaceutical industry that prevents Medicare from negotiating drug prices directly with the manufacturers... Instead, the individual insurers pay for drugs based on their individual fragmented negotiations, a process which guarantees higher prices.

The drug prices for the Veterans Health Administration and Medicaid, which are negotiated by the federal government, are much lower than those paid by Medicare.

Black History IS American History

Obituary:

Pastor Vernon George Shaw

Pastor Vernon George Shaw was born on November 18, 1952 to George and Emma Shaw in San Bernardino, CA and attended San Bernardino High School and Dothan High School in Dothan, Alabama. He took Paralegal courses at Santa Monica City College.

The Lord spoke to him on June 22, 1978 and He said "You are a chosen vessel, I have come in honor of your mothers prayers" and he accepted his calling. He was mentored by Superintendent Herbert C. Pugh at New Jerusalem Church of God in Christ. Vernon Shaw dedicated his life to the ministry and was ordained by the Church of God in Christ in 1994.

Vernon G Shaw married Darlene Sanders on July 3, 1994. He began his Pastoral ministry and founded the Prayer Mission C.O.G.I.C. where he and his wife served faithfully for 17 years. Pastor Shaw officiated many weddings and funerals. He operated in his gifts of evangelism and community outreach. Pastor Shaw had a passion for feeding the poor and hungry at church and parks. He never got tired of helping others. He was a student of the Word of God and he loved to quote scripture and teach his family, his children, and grandchildren about Christ and the Bible. Through his leadership Pastor Shaw led many family members to accept Christ as their Lord and Savior.

Vernon had a contagious laugh, joy of singing, and sense of humor. Anyone who knew him has unique experiences to share of how Vernon impacted their lives. He was a natural comedian, lifting up everyone he came in contact with. He was a remarkable trailblazer, an entrepreneur, and a genuine 'people person'. To many he was a mentor, a confidante and a handy handyman.

Pastor Shaw was preceded in death by his father, George Bernard Shaw, Laretha Johnson (sister), Cleveland Shaw and Johnny Shaw (brothers) and Robert Maurice Johnson IV (his beloved nephew). He leaves to cherish his beautiful life, his wife, Pastor Darlene Sanders-Shaw whom he shared 22 years of marriage until his death; his Mother Emma Shaw who is 103 years old; his brothers Wiley Shaw (Alexis), Donell Shaw, and Ronell Shaw (Sherrie); his sisters Joyce Smith, Mary Roberts (Charles), Barbara McDowell, and Valerie Richardson. Pastor Shaw leaves to carry on his legacy five sons: Kirk Underwood, Don-te Houston, Joe Sanders (Melissa), Jason Sanders, and Brian McAllister, 23 grandchildren, 2 great grands and a host of nieces, nephews and friends.

Honor and Appreciation Ceremony Sparks Inspiration Among Attendees

By Keith McCarter, McCarter University

On February 18, 2016 the San Bernardino Republican Women Federated presented an evening of Honor and Appreciation for San Bernardino Chief of Police Jarrod Burguan, County of San Bernardino Sheriff John McMahan and Assistant Director of the FBI David Bowdich.

This occasion was to honor these three men for their stellar service during the December 2, 2015 act of terrorism here in San Bernardino. Even though the evening was to honor these three men, they used much of their talk time to honor and praise everyone else and minimizing the attention being given to themselves.

Assistant Director David Bowdich used much of his speech time giving credit to a little girl who wrote a very unusually formal letter which thanked him for being so calm, cool, collected, and effective on the day of the incident. The little girl expressed that Mr. Bowdich's demeanor while speaking on the news was so profound as to bring a bit of calm to the calamity. San Bernardino Sheriff John McMahan used much of his time explaining, thanking, and giving due credit to the several other government agencies which were involved in securing the December 2 scene and capturing the culprits.

San Bernardino Police chief Jarrod Burguan used much of his time talking about the effectiveness of all the law enforcement, medical and emergency responders. He praised the training and preparation of every person acting under the color of title and he was sure to give the medical establishment See "Honor an..." page 8

Bottom Line: Health Care Prices

A recent study by Carlton University and Public Citizen, an advocacy group, found the negotiated prices are generally 1/3 less than those paid by Medicare. Medicare pays the highest prices on the planet, for drugs manufactured in the USA. The same drugs are exported around the world and delivered for prices that are more often than not, one-tenth of prices in the USA. The same study estimates that negotiating Medi-care's cost could save 16 billion dollars per year.

il rights group. He was interviewed by NAM's George White.

From 2008 to 2012, you served as president of the NAACP, an organization that does not endorse political candidates. As a public figure, you're now free to make an endorsement. Why are you endorsing Senator Sanders?

My generation was the first targeted in an era of mass incarceration that accelerated as a result of laws enacted in the 1990s. Our national priorities should include an effort to move us away from a society of mass incarceration to a country that provides better education and an economy that produces good-paying jobs. Senator Sanders is pushing for that shift.

Regarding my criteria, I look at the litmus tests that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., provided. He said the first test of genuine leadership is whether the candidate is a follower of consensus or a molder of consensus. Senator Sanders is a molder. The other consideration is the candidate's stand on issues related to what Dr. King called the giant triplets - racism, militarism and greed. Bernie has been the most consistent opponent of the policies and politics that promote those anti-progressive attitudes. (To read more visit www.wssnews.com)

Either these men made a mistake in thinking this night was for everyone except them or, in the alternative, maybe their innate selflessness is one of their many good characteristics which highlighted their competence and dedication to the community to which they serve. Of these two possibilities I believe the latter option rings truer than the former.

Also present was Sen-
