2024 General Election: Black Women Make History as California and U.S. Senators

—By Antonio Ray Harvey | California Black Media

YOKOSUKA, JAPAN --- Operation's Specialist 2nd Class Jazmin Rodriguez, from Ontario, California, participates in a sea-and-anchor evolution as the Arleigh Burke-class guided-missile destroyer USS Ralph Johnson (DDG 114) returns to Commander, Fleet

Activities Yokosuka after a routine patrol, November 8. Ralph Johnson is forward deployed and assigned to Destroyer Squadron (DESRON) 15, the Navy's largest DESRON and the U.S. 7th fleet's principal surface force.

There is one African American woman currently serving in the California State Senate, Sen. Lola Smallwood-Cuevas (D-Ladera Heights).

It's the same in the U.S. Senate.

In October of 2023, Gov. Gavin Newsom appointed Sen. Laphonza Butler (D-Calif.) to complete the term of Sen. Dianne Feinstein after she passed away in September 2023. Butler will likely be replaced in January by Adam Schiff, who is projected to win the seat after the Nov. 5 general election. Now, two more Black women are on pace to become California State Senators.

In the United States Senate, two Black women have already won seats. Lisa Blunt-Rochester of Delaware and Angela Alsobrooks of Maryland will be going to Capitol Hill in January after winning their respective U.S. Senate races.

It will be the first time in U.S. history that two Black women have served in the Senate at the same time.

"It is remarkable to think that in two years, America will celebrate its 250th birthday and in all those years, there has been more than 2000 people who have served in the United States Senate and only three have looked like me," said Alsobrooks in her victory speech on Nov. 5.

"So, I want to salute all of those who came before me, who made it possible for me to stand on this stage tonight, whose sacrifice and stories I will continue to carry with me," added Alsobrooks.

Tony Thurmond Vows to Protect Education in California

By Bo Tefu and Antonio Ray Harvey | California Black Media

In the wake of the general election and Donald Trump winning another term as president, State Superintendent of Public Instruction (SPI) Tony Thurmond is on a mission to protect public education in California.

On Nov. 8, Thurmond, members of the California legislature, educators, union leaders, and other elected officials expressed their concerns at a news conference about the possibility of the Trump Administration dismantling the U.S. Department of Education (DOE).

"To tear down and abolish an organization that provides protections for our students is a threat to the well-being of our students and our families and of Americans," Thurmond said.

Thurmond said losing $8 billion dollars in federal funding is at stake. During his campaign, Trump didn't hesitate to take barbs at the DOE.

Closing the doors of the DOE could affect a range of scholastic programs such as Special Education, English as a Second Language (ESL), free lunch, federal grants for college students and Title I, a program that provides support to educate disadvantaged families.

Sen. Aisha Wahab (D-Hayward) and Assemblymember Al Muratsuchi (D-Torrance), the chair of the Assembly Education Committee, spoke at the news conference held in the boardroom of the California Department of Education building.

Muratsuchi said, "We need to get ready now for what is going to start on Jan. 20 (2025)."

"It is the job of every teacher, every school board member, every principal, every elected representative in the state of California who believes in public education," he said. "It is time for us to stand up to protect all of these kids. When we are facing a bully who is targeting our most vulnerable students, we all need to stand up."

Trump has said that he prefers the Choice School initiative, a policy that provides parents and students the choice to use public funds to attend a school other than their district or local public school.

Thurmond and supporters of the traditional public school system are asking President-elect Trump and the U.S. Congress to continue federal supporting the funding of the programs.

Thurmond said he has started reaching out to lawmakers in Washington, D.C., and in the California legislature to get in front of Trumps policy plans.

"I'm prepared to sponsor legislation that would call on the California State Legislature and the Governor to backfill that funding to preserve and protect that funding for the students of California," Thurmond said.

"Consider Today with Some Urgency Your Eternal Life!"

By Lou K. Coleman | WSS News Contributor

Lou K Coleman

With as much going on in our society and in the world today, tomorrow is not promised. I want you to understand that there are two pressing deadlines and that both of them are urgent. Christ has a deadline for His return of which no man knows the day nor the hour [Matthew 25:13] and at the very same time, we are reminded in [James 4:14] that we do not know what our life will be like tomorrow. For what is your life? A vapor that appears for a little while and then vanishes away. So, consider today with some urgency your eternal life and repent before it is too late! Because once the Master of the house gets up and closes the door, you'll stand outside knocking and pleading, sir open the door for us. But "He will answer," I don't know you or where you come from [Luke 13: 25-27].

Listen, you don't have to go to Hell. God has provided a way of escape for you. But even God's way of escape will do you no good unless you reach out and take it. Why should you die in your sins? Why go to Hell when Jesus has opened the door to Heaven? Consider today with some urgency your eternal life. For you are not the master of your fate. You are not the captain of your soul. Consider the words of Jesus in [Mark 1:15]: The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent and believe the gospel.

And please, don't make the mistake of thinking that you can wait until the last minute to prepare for it. Just as we don't know

JONESTOWN 46 YEARS LATER: A LEGACY OF TRAUMA AND HEALING

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 2024, AT 11:00 AM

We remember the 300 innocent children, hardworking families, as well as Congressman Leo Ryan and his film crew who were senselessly murdered in the tragic 1978 Jonestown Massacre.

Join us to celebrate the lives of the innocent families who were murdered. Let's raise public awareness and erase Jim Jones' name. Hitler IS NOT on the Holocaust Memorial. Jones' name IS on top of the sacred final resting place where 40 infants and almost 300 children are buried. We need YOUR help to remove his name.

In the 1970's, Jim Jones, cult leader and deceiver was able to draw thousands of African Americans to his church from far and near. He used numerous tools to lure them: The Bible, Black gospel music, and activism among false promises.

Our grandmother, Mrs. Julia Gales, was Jones's first Black member to join Peoples Temple in San Francisco. She recruited many families and friends from across the country. Later, it was our grandmother, who identified - with unbearable screams - the names of our relatives when they scrolled down on the news. From that day to now, the Jones family and church members have caused our memorial services and efforts constant problems to give the innocent victims a dignified memorial.

I do not have the money, staff, nor time to fight a cult, but they do. Jim Jones is listed in honor at the gravesite of the babies that he ordered to be murdered. Jones does not deserve to be honored on top of their sacred final resting place. It is like reliving a second Jonestown.

We Will Defend Our Constitution: Gov. Newsom, Other Calif. Leaders, Respond to Trump's Win

By Tanu Henry | California Black Media

Early on Nov. 6 -- shortly after 2 a.m. ET in Palm Beach, Fla.-- President-elect Donald J. Trump declared victory in the 2024 General Election. He thanked supporters and pledged to "fix" the United States with the support of "the biggest, the broadest, the most unified coalition" the country has ever seen.

"They came from all quarters," Trump said to applause. "Union, non-union, African American, Hispanic American, Asian American, Arab American, Muslim American, we had everybody, and it was beautiful."

The next day, Gov. Gavin Newsom thanked Vice President Kamala Harris for a well-fought campaign and congratulated the President-elect, promising to work along with him.

CARB's Environment-Friendly Vote Could Hit Californians With Higher Prices at Gas Pump

By Antonio Ray Harvey | California Black Media

After a 12-hour public comment period and debate, the California Air Resources Board (CARB) approved updates to the Low Carbon Fuel Standard (LCFS) with a 12-2 vote, ensuring its ambitious commitment to reaching zero-emission goals for the transportation sector by 2045.

The meeting took place at Haagen-Smit Auditorium in Riverside. The approval of the fuel standards is expected to trigger an increase in gas prices in the state, but board members are uncertain how much more Californians would have to pay at the pump.

"The proposal approved today strikes a balance between reducing the environmental and health impacts of transportation fuel used in California and ensuring that low-carbon options are available as the state continues to work toward a zero-emissions future," said CARB Chair Liane Randolph.

California Voters Reject Prop 33, Blocking Expansion of Rent Control Protections

By Bo Tefu and Antonio Ray Harvey | California Black Media

With Donald Trump recently elected as the 47th President, many Black Californians are feeling a mix of concern and uncertainty, especially with Project 2025 -- a conservative plan poised to impact social services, voting rights, education reform, and environmental protections -- areas that support the well-being of Black communities across the state.

At the November meeting of the Inglewood Area Ministers Association (IAMA) held two days after the General Election at the Center of Hope Church, IAMA charter member retired Rev. William Thurmond shared how he had comforted family members troubled by the election's outcome.

Thurmond turned to the Book of Samuel, recounting how Samuel, a prophet and leader, anointed Israel's kings and guided the people through turbulent political transitions. He suggested that Samuel's story offers insight into how to view leadership that may seem flawed or contrary to one's personal values.

Drawing from 1 Samuel 8, Thurmond explained how the people of Israel demanded a king to lead them despite Samuel's warnings of the hardships that the decision would bring.

Quoting directly, Thurmond shared Samuel's warning: "This will be the manner of the king that shall reign over you: he will take your sons, and appoint them for himself, for his chariots, and to be his horsemen... he will

California voters have rejected Proposition 33, which aimed to expand rent control protections by repealing the Costa-Hawkins Rental Housing Act. With nearly 95% of precincts reporting, 61.6% of voters opposed the measure, while 38.4% supported it. The proposition would have allowed cities to extend rent control to properties not previously covered, such as newer homes and units with new tenants.

The initiative, backed by labor unions and tenant advocacy groups, sought to ease housing costs for groups like seniors, low-wage workers, and veterans. However, it faced strong opposition from landlords, real estate developers, and property owners, who argued that it would worsen California's housing crisis by discouraging new construction and lowering property values.

This marks the third failure of a similar measure, following two unsuccessful attempts in 2018 and 2020. Proponents of Prop. 33 raised $50.1 million, while opponents outspent them with $124.6 million.

Gov. Newsom, Other Calif. Leaders, Respond to Trump's Win

However, Newsom put a stake in the ground with a pledge he made as well: to defend the Constitution of the United States and stand up for policies and values that may be at odds with Trump's politics but are supported by the majority of Californians.

"Though this is not the outcome we wanted, our fight for freedom and opportunity endures," said Newsom in a statement. "California will seek to work with the incoming president -- but let there be no mistake, we intend to stand with states across our nation to defend our Constitution and uphold the rule of law."

Throughout his governorship, Newsom has introduced and rallied support for a number of progressive policies on a range of issues from criminal justice reform, immigration and trade to the environment, abortion and racial justice. Championing those views has positioned Newsom as the protagonist of the political Left and a punching bag of the political Right, including Trump. The incoming POTUS frequently references California in his criticisms and invokes Newsom by name, or a disparaging nickname ("Newscum"), setting the Governor up as his arch-nemesis in political diatribes.

Consider Today with Some Urgency Your Eternal Life

the "day nor the hour" that Christ will return, the same goes for our own demise. Death can come at any time, whether we are ready or not! Take advantage of the fact that you are alive and well to seek God's mercy and grace today [Proverbs

27:1]. The Bible says that God is patient with us, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance [2 Peter 3:9]. Don't gamble with your soul because one day an angel will place one foot on the sea and the other on the dry land and lifting his hand to heaven, swear by Him that liveth forever and ever, that "Time shall be no more." [Revelation 10:5-6].

CARB's Environment-Friendly Vote

aligned with climate change programs, and they oversee all air pollution control efforts in California. From requirements for clean vehicles and fuels to promoting solutions to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, CARB creates standards for effective air and climate programs.

The amendments of LCFS are directed to decrease the carbon intensity of California's transportation fuel pool by 30% by 2030 and by 90% by 2045, according to CARB. The provisions also expand support for zero-emissions infrastructure, including for medium- and heavy-duty vehicles, and make more public transit agencies eligible to generate credits. According to CARB staff, the LCFS program is designed to reduce air pollution and greenhouse gas emissions by "setting a declining carbon intensity target for transportation fuels" used in the state.

Guidance from Black Ministers take your fields, and your vineyards, and your olive yards... he will take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyards, and give to his officers, and to his servants." (1 Samuel 8:11, 14-15).

"Much like that moment in history," Thurmond said, "we, too, may need to brace ourselves for difficult times. But just as the Israelites were called to press on, we are called to stay resilient, support one another, and keep our focus on a future beyond this administration."
